

Lang & Reed 2013 'Two-Fourteen' Cabernet Franc – Napa Valley Accolades & Reviews

Wine Enthusiast: 91 Points – Superb – A Great Achievement August 2016

“Named for a Loire Valley clone, this New World wine aspires to an Old World sensibility and achieves it in its floral invitation and bright, peppery overtones. Coiled within its thickness of tannin and dense cherry are ethereal, earthy whispers of intrigue and acidity. This is a lively, lovely wine.”

Connoisseurs' Guide to California Wine: 91 Points – Two Stars April 2016

“Despite having been produced from a Loire Valley clone, this one straddles the line between north and south and delivers both the fullness and the range that remind also of Right Bank Bordeaux. Its central fruit says Loire in its red cherry, slightly ripe raspberry intimations, while its structure and oak raise the stakes in terms of serious intent and obvious age worthiness. In short, we are fans whether the drinking happens today or later. Two-Fourteen continues to be a game changer in the perception of what local Cabernet Franc can be.”

Napa's Other Cabernet February 2016

“The wine, Lang & Reed's “Two Fourteen,” expresses a rich, yet finessed, side of Cab Franc; in the 2013 vintage, it tastes like chocolate and exotic spice, with a chewy, grippy mouthfeel. It intimates a mere suggestion — a whisper — of herb.”

The Wine Advocate: 89 Points December 2015

The 2016 Cabernet Franc Two-Fourteen is from a long time veteran producer of this grape long before it became fashionable. It is a delicious, round, juicy style of Cabernet Franc with a dark ruby/purple color. Load os blueberry and raspberry fruit, medium-bodied texture, soft tannins and an up-front sexy style.”

Finding Value with Napa Wines in New York City: Fantasy Wine

November 2015

"It is not so easy to make a great 100% Cabernet Franc wine but Lang & Reed is able to do it. It has a beautiful floral and raspberry nose with lovely precision and purity on the palate. A red wine that is able to balance power and elegant. This wine is only $48 instead of over $50, but it was certainly a 'fantasy wine'."
